Electronic devices have become an essential part of modern life, especially for teenagers. Devices such as smartphones, tablets, and laptops are commonly used for communication, entertainment, and studying. While these gadgets offer many benefits, overuse can lead to negative effects on health and well-being. Spending too much time on electronic devices can cause eye strain, headaches, and sleep disturbances. Moreover, excessive screen time is often linked to a sedentary lifestyle, which can contribute to weight gain and other health problems.

Despite these risks, electronic devices are valuable tools when used wisely. For instance, they can help students research information for their homework or attend online classes. Additionally, smartphones and apps can be useful for setting reminders, managing time, and staying organised. However, it's important to set limits on usage. Experts recommend that teens take regular breaks from screens and limit recreational screen time to two hours a day. Maintaining a balance between using electronic devices and other activities such as playing sports or spending time outdoors is crucial for overall well-being.

Question 13. Which of the following is NOT true according to the passage?

- A. Electronic devices help students with their studies as well as relaxation.
- B. Taking breaks from screen time is important for teens' health to avoid negative effects.
- C. Experts recommend limiting recreational screen time to below a couple of hours a day.
- D. Overuse of electronic devices can lead to sleep problems and other health issues.

Question 14. According to the passage, teenagers can benefit from electronic devices by _____.

- A. ignoring the recommended screen time limits.
- B. using them for studying and time management.
- C. using them for entertainment all day long.
- D. avoiding the use of smartphones for communication.

Question 15. What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. Electronic devices are the main source of entertainment for teens.
- B. Electronic devices are useful but should be used in moderation.
- C. Electronic devices cause serious health problems in teenagers.
- D. Electronic devices should be banned for teenagers.

Question 16. The word sedentary in paragraph 1 is OPPOSITE in meaning to _____.

- A. still B. active C. unhealthy D. comfortable

Question 17. The word valuable in paragraph 2 is CLOSEST in meaning to _____.
